Important Information

- Students undertaking government-subsidised training are required to pay a co-contribution fee.
- The fee amount will depend on the course, delivery mode, and concessional eligibility.
- Employers or third parties may choose to cover the co-contribution fee on behalf of the student; however, training providers are not permitted to waive it.
- Prices are indicative only and may change depending on unit selection, credit transfers, or updates to government funding.
- Full enrolment details, including policies on refunds and withdrawals, are outlined in the Student Handbook.
